Subject Line: IMPORTANT UPDATE: Your email migration has been rescheduled to September 8

Your email migration has been moved to September 8

What's happening?

Your email migration has been rescheduled to September 8 to allow additional time required to complete the back-end preparations that need to occur prior to migrating your email account. No changes have been made to your mailbox and no action is required at this time. You will receive an additional notification on September 8. Thank you in advance for your patience and understanding on this important initiative to migrate all of our colleagues to one global email platform.

Who should I reach out to for support or questions?

Please contact the Project Unity team as noted below with technical questions or concerns.

- Email: projectunity@cushwake.com

Joseph Monroy
Head of Global Application Hosting